

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 107

Adopted in Assembly May 15, 2014

Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Adopted in Senate June 26, 2014

Secretary of the Senate

This resolution was received by the Secretary of State this _____ day of _____, 2014, at _____ o'clock ____M.

Deputy Secretary of State

RESOLUTION CHAPTER _____

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 107—Relative to Year of the Family Physician.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

ACR 107, Bloom. Year of the Family Physician.

This measure would designate 2014 as the “Year of the Family Physician.”

WHEREAS, Family physicians are trusted members of their communities, dedicated to keeping patients as healthy as possible throughout their lives; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians’ practices are a place for patients and families to turn to for care and needed advice; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians integrate the biological, clinical, and behavioral sciences to provide continuing and comprehensive health care; and

WHEREAS, The care provided by family physicians covers all ages, sexes, each organ system, and every disease; and family physicians pay special attention to their patients’ lives within the context of their families and their communities; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians have the unique opportunity to affect the health of patients over their entire lifetimes; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians can provide patients with a patient-centered medical home through which they receive a full range of services within the context of a continuing relationship with their family physician and are dedicated to treating the whole person, integrating care for male and female patients of all ages within the context of the community, and advocating for the patient in an increasingly complex health care system; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians are geographically distributed across the country more equitably than other health care providers; and

WHEREAS, Family physicians are accessible to disadvantaged populations that lack access to quality health care, which in turn helps to reduce health disparities; and

WHEREAS, Individuals who regularly visit a family physician in a patient-centered medical home are more likely to receive preventive services and better management of chronic illnesses and have a decreased chance of premature death, thereby improving health outcomes and lowering costs; and

WHEREAS, Adults in the United States who have a family physician or another type of primary care physician have 33 percent lower health care costs and 19 percent lower odds of dying than those who see only a specialist; and

WHEREAS, As a nation, we would save $67 billion each year if everyone saw a family physician or another type of primary care provider as their usual source of care; and

WHEREAS, Meeting the “Triple Aim” of better health, better care, and lower costs in our health care system means placing a new emphasis on primary care as provided by family physicians; and

WHEREAS, The majority of health insurance regulations, the launch of Covered California, Medi-Cal eligibility expansion, and other significant provisions of the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010 (PPACA) are effective January 1, 2014; and

WHEREAS, There is a tremendous value to ensuring that all patients have access to health insurance coverage and care, especially as our communities face a dire shortage of primary care physicians, including family physicians, a problem that will be exacerbated by the entrance of millions of newly insured into the health care market; and

WHEREAS, The implementation of the PPACA will lead to a significant demand for experienced and well-trained health care professionals who can treat a wide variety of health conditions and compassionately guide patients through our complex health care system; and

WHEREAS, Every patient and every family deserves a family physician; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate thereof concurring, That the Legislature declares 2014 as the “Year of the Family Physician” in recognition of the critically important role family physicians will play for patients and communities during the implementation of the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010 and beyond; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit copies of this resolution to the author for appropriate distribution.

Attest:

Secretary of State